

Mangrove News

I would like to thank our room moms, Becca and Lindsay for all their hard work and preparation for our Valentine's party. The toddlers all had a blast and they appreciated all the parents who were also able to attend.

I would also like to thank all the parents who have volunteered their time to check our friends' heads for lice. I think that spraying your child's head everyday with the tea tree oil (donated by Ms.Jen) or Fairy Tales (donated by Jamie Strunk) has really helped prevent an infestation in the Mangrove room. Unfortunately our spray bottle has stopped working and we are running low on both sprays. If anyone would like to make donations to our room, we would greatly appreciate it. Lets keep up these preventative measures to ensure to keep our class lice free.

This month we have been really focusing on helping the children help themselves. Whether it's using the potty, wiping their noses or getting their socks and shoes on, the toddlers are having great success with these life lessons. We encourage you parents to allow your children to do as much for themselves as possible. This includes having your child walk onto campus and put their own lunches away. It is so empowering for your child to have that sense of accomplishment when they have completed a task.

It's hard to believe but we have just about worked our way through all the families donating snacks and are about to start the cycle again. For all of our new families, each week we have a different family donate snack to the class. Look in this weeks Thursday folders to see if and when your donation week is scheduled. Every family has been doing a great job with their donations and it's because of you that our little friends are happy and fed on a day-to-day basis.

Thank you for all of your support!
Ms.Andrea, Ms.Jen & Ms.Tina
